

HOT FIGHT FOR RICHMOND VOTE

Bryan and Taft Contest Completely Overshadows All Others in City.

BOTH SIDES WORKING TO BOOST STANDING

Representative Lamb Expected to Lead Bryan, and Taft Will Run Ahead of Luce for Congress—Where People May Vote.

Polls open at 6:30 A. M. and close at 5:10 P. M. There are twenty-four voting precincts in the city of Richmond.

The weather prediction for city and State to-day is fair and warm.

The full qualified vote of the city is 14,286. Four years ago Roosevelt received 509 votes, as against 3,749 for Parker.

In a letter to election judges yesterday Judge Witt stated that in the absence of a voter's name from the printed lists, the possession of poll tax receipts must be accepted as an evidence of qualification.

Judge Witt will be in his office all day to settle disputes.

NOT since the stormy days of 1896 has Richmond been so stirred up over a national election.

The managers on both sides held final conferences last night, and are apparently ready for the battle of the ballots.

The polls will open at all the precincts in the city and State at 6:30 A. M. and will close at 5:10 P. M.

Ordinarily this would mean a quick count of the returns, but the ticket to be voted is a long one, and may require more time than usual before the results can be accurately ascertained.

The judges and clerks were given the poll books and other paraphernalia yesterday, and they are all expected to report promptly at their respective precincts.

The contest here between Bryan and Taft is overshadowed by the contest in the State, where the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

Indeed, it has overshadowed all others. One has heard but little of the other candidates for the presidency, and the fight for Congress is one-sided between Captain Lamb and his Republican competitor, Mr. John Q. Louisa.

GIVE CASTRO TIME

No Blockade of Ports Until Reply to Ultimatum Is Received.

THE HAGUE, November 2.—No blockade of ports of Venezuela by the Netherlands government yet has been ordered, nor will any definite action be taken until the government receives the official text of President Castro's reply to the second Dutch note.

This is expected to reach here November 6th.

As has already been stated, however, Holland is fully prepared for any naval demonstration, including a blockade, that the circumstances may demand.

The time fixed by the second note of the Dutch government to Venezuela, which has been extended as an ultimatum, demanding the revocation of the obnoxious decree directed against the trade of Curacao, expires to-day.

Activity at Curacao.

WILLEMSTADT, CURACAO, November 2.—In view of President Castro's refusal to comply with the demands of the Dutch government regarding the decree of May 14th prohibiting the transshipment in Curacao of goods destined for Venezuela ports, the government of this island is very active at present, and seems to be preparing for action against Venezuela.

Complete secrecy is observed by naval officers and government employees.

Private advices received here announce that the reply to the second Dutch note by the Venezuelan government was couched in very polite terms and requested Holland to send an envoy extraordinary to settle the pending disputes on amicable terms.

The reply was remitted October 19th from La Guaira via New York, and will reach Holland on November 6th.

RAIDED GAME

Broken Horizontal Bar and Punching Bag Excuse for Athletic Club.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.—The Eastern Athletic Club, located on the second floor of Nos. 908 and 210 Pennsylvania Avenue, was raided yesterday by a gambling club.

Frank Foster, said to be manager of the place, and Benjamin F. Marks, his assistant, forfeited $200 and $100, respectively, in the Police Court this morning under charges of permitting gambling on the premises.

In a second charge against Foster—that of conducting an unlicensed poolroom—a plea of not guilty was entered. Trial by jury was demanded.

The Eastern Athletic Club, so called from the fact that there is a gymnasium in one of the smaller rooms equipped with a broken horizontal bar, an aged punching bag and a number of Indian clubs, has been under suspicion of harboring a poker game, especially Saturday night, for some time past.

The police have kept strict watch. They suspected a game was actually in progress shortly after midnight Saturday.

A raiding party, headed by Lieutenant Hollenberger and Sergeant Lee, with Policemen Howes and Haycock, entered the rooms of the club and found high-stakes poker in progress. Some fifteen or sixteen men were taking a hand.

SUBMARINE BIDS

Three Companies in Competition for Contract to Construct Eight.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.—Bids were opened at the Navy Department to-day for the construction of eight submarines, the largest of which Congress has appropriated $2,500,000.

There were three bidders. The Electric Boat Company, of Quincy, Mass., bid for the construction of eight submarines, the largest of which Congress has appropriated $2,500,000.

displacement from $144,000 to $444,000, according to the class and number of boats built on the Atlantic coast. For the Pacific coast, their prices range from $445,000 to $1,010,000.

For a boat of 375 tons displacement, their price ranges from $425,000 to $1,010,000.

On vessels of 400 tons displacement, the price was from $382,500 to $1,010,000, according to the class and number of boats built on the Pacific coast, being from $425,000 to $1,010,000.

The bid of the American-Laurent Company, of Philadelphia, was for one of two boats of 522 tons displacement at $457,500.

ARGUMENT COMMENCES

Cases of Morse and Curtis Will Be Dealt with on Wednesday.

NEW YORK, November 2.—An election day verdict by the jury which is considering the case of Curtis, former official of the National Bank of North America, on trial in the United States court here, charged with violation of the national bank law, was rendered today.

Some time was taken up with arguments on various motions and the beginning of the summing up was delayed. The case will go to the jury until Wednesday.

The attorneys for Morse and Curtis secured the dismissal of the counts in the indictment against their clients, charging the Calvin Austin loan of $100,000 in connection with which misappropriation had been charged.

Charles E. Little, of the New York bar, who is representing the defense, argued for Curtis.

An adjournment was taken until to-morrow.

COTTON CONFERENCE

"Night Riding in the South" to Be Discussed at Coming Meeting.

ATLANTA, GA., November 2.—Complete arrangements for the cotton conference of the Southern Cotton Association, to be held in Memphis, Tenn., November 10th, 11th and 12th, were announced to-night by President Harvie Jordan.

Among the speakers will be Governor M. R. Patterson, of Tennessee, and President J. A. Taylor, of the National Ginners' Association, who will deliver an address on the subject, "Night Riding in the South."

Other prominent speakers will be Governor Neill, of Mississippi; Hon. E. D. Smith, of Florida; S. C. Walter, of Georgia; J. A. Taylor, of Alabama; and W. P. G. Harding, president of the first National Bank, of Birmingham.

PURSUE OUTLAWS

Constabulary Kill the Leader and Are Following Rest of Band.

MANILA, November 2.—A force of constabulary from the town of Iligan, sent in pursuit of a band of Moros which had been raiding the coast and causing other depredations in the province of Misamis on Mindanao Island, overtook the outlaws, killed the leader and following the rest of the band according to a dispatch received here to-day.

This band has caused much trouble in the province and with its capture it is believed that quiet will be restored in that part of Mindanao Island.

HIS LAST APPEAL TO LABOR VOTERS

Judge Taft Closes His Campaign in His Own State.

HE CLAIMS GOMPERS MISREPRESENTS HIM

Says His Decisions on the Bench Should Be Read in Their Entirety and It Would Be Found His Position Is Correct.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., November 2.—William Howard Taft is now speeding to Cincinnati to cast his vote to-morrow.

"Vote the Republican ticket and preserve prosperity, protection to American industries, business integrity and the rights of labor." This was the message with which Mr. Taft finished his fight.

The close of the campaign in this city to-night was a fitting climax. The time spent by Judge Taft in Youngstown was crowded with political events.

Three speeches were required of the candidate at the Park Theatre, the Grand Opera House and in the public square. Preceding these the candidate reviewed a parade miles in length, which was composed of many thousands of uniformed marchers.

He was then the guest of the prominent Republicans at the Youngstown Club for a dinner.

The last day of the campaign witnessed an increase rather than a diminishing of the crowds and enthusiasm wherever Mr. Taft went. Beginning his work at Dunkirk, N. Y., this morning, he addressed big crowds at Westfield, N. Y., Erie, Pa., Ashtabula, Garrettsville, Cleveland and Youngstown.

The Cleveland meeting was a monster affair, and was preceded by a parade of many marching clubs, which was reviewed by the candidate, with Mrs. Taft, who joined him at Buffalo.

He came for Gompers.

The tremendous meeting in the Cleveland Armory was presided over by A. L. Faulkner, president of the National Order of Window Glass Makers. Judge Taft took advantage of the opportunity to emphasize, as he has done throughout the day, that notwithstanding the opposition to him and the Republican party by Samuel Gompers, if elected he will maintain his great sympathy for and interest in the welfare of organized and unorganized labor which, he maintains, his previous record sustains.

"I want to say," he said, "that it does not make any difference how much Gompers may misrepresent my position; it does not make any difference how much he misrepresents the position of the Supreme Court of the United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these same gentlemen had had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of United States—I suppose I ought not to feel